Dear Mike,

Even though I can't seem to keep up with anything these days, I cannot even begin to imagine what it would be like had Anchor Center for Blind Children not hired Michael Brisbois and Associates as our owner's representative. Your attention to detail, your knowledge of construction management along with architecture, and your ability to work with such varied personalities have made this project actually turn into FUN!

Thank you for the gentle nudges and sometimes pushes to stay on top of our part of the project. It seems like you always know when and how hard to encourage us! Thanks for assuming responsibility for the things we were clueless about when we began, and thank you for educating us along the way. You have been incredibly generous with your knowledge, your input and your patience. I know we have not been your easiest clients, but I hope the project has been rewarding!

Finally, I want to recount a recent conversation I had with a local architect not associated with our building. I told him that hiring you was the "best money we spent on this project." He corrected me and said, "No, it's the best money you've saved on your project!" Mike, I have to say I think both of those statements are true.

Thanks for a fabulous working relationship and for making sure not only that the project quality is better than we hoped (and we hoped for the best) but also your wise counsel to us as clients and your commitment to the children and families we serve by always remembering what this building is about.

I will be happy to recommend Michael Brisbois and Associates any time!

Warmest regards,

Alice Applebaum
